VASQUEZ OPERATING IN VISALIA.

The Delta of January 8th gives these particulars of a late raid of this rob-
ber's gang:

On Sunday last, about the hour that our citizens were returning from church, the cry of robbers was heard from near Spanish town, in the north part of the village. Many citizens being on the street at the time, all who were armed started boldly to the front.
Two men on horseback, and one on foot, had entered town, evidently to try the nerve of Visalia and see what plunder they could get. Coming first upon the house of a widow, they tied her down and secured what money she had, some $16 in coin. Some member of this family being in the back yard, saw the robbers, and sounded the alarm, which readily brought a party to the rescue. The robbers hastily fled, pursued a short distance by citizens. In their hasty flight they left some sixty pieces of rope
with which to tie persons, cut and prepared, ready for immediate use, evidently meaning "business." Marcus, who killed Mariano in this place some three or four weeks ago, was identified as one of the robbers, and he is probably skulking around Visalia, as he is reported to have been seen here last night by one who knows him.

Small Stock of Breadstuffs in England.

The extent of the failure of the European harvests is only now beginning to be realized. With one half the year still to face, we are told by the medium of the telegraph that the stock of wheat and flour in Liverpool to date does not exceed one million of centals of the former. Liverpool is the great wheat entrepot of the United Kingdom, and from the above statement it would appear that, taking into account the stocks held in the other large cities of England, Ireland and Scotland, the hands of wholesalers
and retailers, there cannot now be much more than enough for a month's consumption in the aggregate. This is a bad outlook for the laboring millions of the British Empire, but it is good for those in America who have wheat to sell. There are not more than six million centals afloat, including California, Eastern, Chilean and Black Sea wheat, and the total available surplus for shipment does not include Europe and Australia exceeded thirty million centals; whereas,
England requires at least seventy.
This will cause prices there—which have gone up twenty-five cents per cental within a very short time—to mount still higher and higher. Those dealers in this city who have had the foreign wheat buy up in advance will make money; and the farmers who have been able to hold over will obtain splendid prices as the season progresses. Starting into the year 1874-75 with no surplus, the prices for the coming year, both in England and America, promise to rule unprecedently high.—[Chronicle.]

The DAILY HERALD has nearly DOUBLE the Circulation of other contemporary paper published in Los Angeles. As an advertising medium it is consequently of DOUBLE their value.

A VILLAINOUS FRAUD.

How the Star Manufactures Special Dispatches.

The Star has been in the habit for some time of publishing, under the head of "Special Telegrams to the Star," the regular dispatches received by all the papers of this city, as well as those of Santa Barbara and San Diego. We have said nothing about this little fraud, as it deceives no one, and only raised a laugh at the expense of that paper. But lately we have occasionally noticed "special dispatches" in that journal that on examination could not be found in any other paper of the same date on the Pacific coast, most of them, however, having a familiar appearance, as if we had read them some time ago, and partially forgotten them.

On Friday morning last we detected and exposed the transparent fraud by which an eight line dispatch, received and published by all the leading papers of the 8th in the State, was expanded into a half column of "special" in the Star, of that date.

Following up this fraud, the Star appeared on the morning of the 9th with about two columns of "Specials." A small portion of these are the regular dispatches, but the larger portion were clippings from the news and editorial columns of Eastern journals of last month. No such dispatches as those referring to the Syndicate, the Supreme Court decisions, etc., were received by the Star at all. We have not the room to copy all these bogus dispatches, and can only give place to the following from that issue:

Boston, Jan. 8. The Traveller states that Special Agent Norman H. Bingham seized the books of Jordan, Marsh & Co., this morning for alleged frauds on the revenue of the United States, the amount of the alleged being set without an examination of the books, at over $1,500,000, with the probability that it will reach a larger sum. These alleged frauds have extended over a period of years, it is asserted. The examination of the books is going on, but until completed it is impossible to give the exact figures, although those best informed in the matter assert that they will probably reach nearly double those given.

This identical dispatch was published by the Chicago Daily Tribune of Monday, December 29th, and was dated Boston Dec. 27th. The "enterprising" Star that all the people like because of its "late and reliable intelligence" copies it, changes the date to January 8th, and tries to palm it off on an unsuspecting public as a "late and reliable special," two weeks after the New York and Chicago papers had discussed the matter and forgotten it.

Yet this paper, a convicted thief and forger in its news columns, a pirate in its literary department, and all three, embellished with the blackguardism of the circus ring, in its editorial, has the effrontery to arraign the HERALD, and charge it with kvagery, in following the example of many of the ablest journals of the East, by offering chronicles to subscribers.

The press is generally making fun of a provision of the new Constitution of Pennsylvania, which stipulates that no one believing in a God, and in the system of future rewards and punishments, shall be deprived of the privilege of holding office on account of his religious sentiments. This provision is the result of a shrewd practice than most people think for. Pennsylvania is the headquarters of an association of proscribers who desire to insert a religious test in the State and National Constitutions. Not being able to accomplish this object directly, they have secured the insertion in the new Constitution of a provision which by implication does prohibit the holding of office, and the exercise of the right of suffrage, by those who do not hold such views, trusting to future legislation for carrying out their plans. It may turn out that this isn't so much of a joke, after all.

OLD ADIPOSITY is always learning something from attaches of this office. On Saturday he learned from Sam. Berge, that if he didn't mind his business he would get a worse kicking than was ever bestowed on him by the ringmaster of the circus he used to perform in; and now he learns from some "sub," with whom we suppose he has been on a drunk, that we have withdrawn our chromo premium. If he will call on one of the editors he will learn something that he never knew, viz., that a gentleman never pines among employees for scandal to circulate, and is above the dirty practice of manufacturing small lies for the purpose of injuring an adversary.

New Papers.

We have received the first number of the Weekly Chronicle, a large eight page journal.

The Humboldt Times has begun the issue of a daily, the first number of which we have received. It is neat and new.

THE HERALD was informed by telegraph a day or two since that the public printing of San Diego was awarded to the Union. It has since transpired that it gets the munificent sum of nine cents a square for the work, not enough to pay the composition.

The San Fernando Oil Regions.

Saturday morning bright and early, Messrs. White and Gearing, the Pennsylvania men who have recently erected Gas Works in Sacramento, and are now in this city with the view of doing the same thing here, together with Doctor Geleick, M. W. Childs, Colonel Peel and Frank Howard, of this city, and M. H. Williams, HERALD reporter, left this city in two carriages for the San Fernando Oil Regions. The route followed was the line of the Telegraph Stages, through the Caheunga and Fernandopasses, to Lyon Station. At this point we find the new Oil Refinery, now in course of erection by the Petroleum Refining Company of this city. These works are of an experimental character, and are intended to demonstrate the capabilities of this region for the production of illuminating oil. The still has a capacity of fifteen barrels, and is located in a very convenient spot about a hundred rods from the Station, at the base of the hill, and will be ready for operations in about a month.

The existence of oil in this region has been known for years, but no extensive steps have been taken to develop it. It flows spontaneously from crevices in the rock, and the streams flowing from the cañons are covered with the crude petroleum. By building temporary dams to back up the small streams, considerable quantities of oil have been obtained, and it is calculated that without any additional development, a sufficient amount of oil can be secured to keep the refinery in operation. Some effort has been made to test the productiveness of the oil bearing rock, and several shallow wells have been sunk. These wells and springs are located in the cañons some five or six miles from the station to the left of the stage road. The Tousey well is five inches bore and one hundred and fifteen feet deep. It was bored six years ago and oil has flowed steadily from it all that time. A tank holding sixty barrels built at the time the well was sunk, is now full of oil. This well is owned by Messrs. Wiley and Caswell, and gives every indication that when finished it will equal in productiveness any of the far-famed wells of Pennsylvania.

The Geleick well, owned by the Los Angeles Petroleum Refining Company has been sunk about sixty feet, and is also a flowing well. The Little Mower owned by the same company, is about the same depth, and shows equally good indications. The Pico well has only been bored a few feet into the rock, but it too is bubbling out oil and gas, and promises to pay well for further development. In fact all these wells are nothing more than mere scratches on the surface, and are only valuable as a proof that petroleum does really exist in paying quantities. In this view of the case they are a perfect success. Old oil prospectors from the Pennsylvania oil regions go wild over the abundant indications and declare that the most favorable spots in Pennsylvania and Virginia do not begin to show such prospects for oil, as are visible all around these wells; and enthusiastic oil men say that a thousand barrel well can be obtained by simply going down after it.

Messrs. White and Gearing are in ecstasies over the character of the oil. They say that the petroleum as it flows from the springs is superior in quality to that in the Eastern States; and specimens of it that they collected, in appearance is almost like the refined oil sold for illuminating purposes. There is any quantity of material from which gas can be cheaply and easily manufactured. This is of the utmost importance to our city, and one that presents itself directly to the mind. We are now paying $7 50 per thousand and cubic feet for a very inferior quality of gas. To be sure this is an exorbitant price, even if manufactured from coal; but to materially and permanently reduce the cost of making it, so that an opposition company may hope to live and make money, it is essential that a cheap and reliable supply of material shall be secured. This supply is found in the San Fernando oils, and nothing remains but to organize a company and build the necessary works to insure forever to this city a supply of good and cheap gas.

In view of the vast fortunes that have accumulated by the business in Pennsylvania, and the far-reaching and profitable commerce that is founded on this one article, it is a little surprising that such a promising region as the San Fernando, should have been so entirely neglected. It is quite certain that if located anywhere else but on the Pacific Coast, among gold and silver lodes of fabulous richness, it would long ere this have been explored and developed and now in, instead of lying neglected amid the barren mountains, would be teeming with thousands of industrious laborers, and transmuting its oily treasures into stores of gold that would outweigh the products of our richest mines.

We are to-day dependent on the East for our supplies of illuminating and lubricating oils for the whole Pacific Coast, when the entire cost of producing them here, will not amount to the freight charges alone, on the oil brought from the Atlantic States. This would leave the original cost of the oil in the East as a clear profit, and on the total amount consumed; would figure up a sum, which if poured into the business of Los Angeles would make such a change as the wildest enthusiast has never dreamed of. If there were any doubts of the extent and value of these deposits, we would not speak so confidently, but the man who has any experience in such matters has only to go and see the place, and be convinced. The oil is there, and it only needs the hand of enterprise, and a moderate amount of capital to develop its wonderful richness, and turn a wilderness into a hive of productive industry. How long will the business men and capitalists of Los Angeles allow this vast source of wealth to lie dormant at our very doors? Not many months more we believe. We shall refer to this important matter again, and hope in the meantime, that our people will awake to the importance of the subject.

Bunker Hill.

A little over a year more, and the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Bunker Hill will take place. A little band of heroes, then inaugurated a struggle, which brought untold results. It is very fitting that their deeds should be commemorated. The nation at large is very justly arranging for a celebration on an extensive scale, of the centennial anniversary of this event. This will instil patriotic impulse into the souls of those of the coming generations, and prepare them for the struggles, which they, in life, must undergo. Overhanging Los Angeles is a hill similar to Bunker Hill—nay, it is larger. From it all the city can be seen, and the country for miles around. On this hill also, are military marks, the remnants of a fort, which was built for the protection of liberty in this State. This hill has an avenue running along its crest, and our friend Beaudry, through whose influence chiefly it has been opened, has very appropriately named it Bunker Hill Avenue. The City Surveyor has been ordered to define the grades and lines of Olive, Charity and Bunker Hill avenues, from Hill to Hope; Second street, and Temple street, from Hill to Hope. This will bring these lands within easy reach of the business part of the city. The distance to the Court House is less than it is from the Turners Hall.

Mr. Beaudry being the owner, by perfect and indisputable title, offers the following scheme, believing that it supplies a felt want.

His various tracts have been surveyed, and platted in lots of convenient size for residences, upwards of two hundred in number, and the maps, together with abstracts of title, are kept for public inspection at his office, opposite the Pico House.

Any person desiring to purchase can inspect the lots, select his lot or lots, and acquire the same, if not previously taken up by another, upon the following terms: Purchasers not being restricted to a single lot.

The purchaser or his successor to pay the fixed price of the lands selected by him, in equal monthly installments, as follows: On lots valued at $400 and upwards, but not to exceed $500, $15 per month; on those valued at $300 and upwards, and less than $400, $10 per month. Payments in gold or currency, and no interest demanded. For cash in hand a reduction of fifteen per cent. will be made. The purchaser to have immediate possession upon payment of the first installment and on execution and delivery of contract.

The right of the purchasers may be assigned by him, and his assigns to succeed to all his privileges and liabilities; standing in all respects towards the vendor as an original obligor. Purchasers shall not be restricted to the payment of the first installment as above shown, but may make payments in advance, and on all such payments he will allow one per cent. per month, from the date of payment until said payment would become due.

Upon selection of a lot or lots by a purchaser, and payment of the first installment with five dollars, in U. S. gold coin, as expenses on the document, Mr. Beaudry with the purchaser, will execute and acknowledge a sealed agreement, embodying the above conditions; and upon full payment, according thereto, the undersigned will execute and deliver to the purchaser, or his lawful representatives, on demand, a good and sufficient and absolute deed of conveyance of the tract selected, and upon full payment, according thereto, the grantee paying the cost of such deed.

These proposals will be kept open until the 12th day of February, 1874. The location is very desirable. All that has heretofore been lacking is water, and that want is now fulfilled. Any one else in as desirable location, lots readily command from $500 to $1,000 and even higher rates. This property is put at the astonishing low price of from $300 to $400. But this is not all. This may be paid in currency and a reduction of fifteen per cent will be made for cash in hand.

Staterooms. Tickets at the above rates until

The editor of the Express is hard to please; first he fell out with the proprietor of this paper, then he abused the editor and all his assistants, and now he is in trouble about one of our correspondents. Poor fellow, we are afraid he never will be suited.

If any of our Eastern readers want a paper from San Bernardino, they will find the Guardian just exactly what they desire. It is able and well conducted, and has done more to place the resources of that great country before the world in their true light than all other agencies put together.

A boy who had dug up the cranium of one of the aboriginal inhabitants of California, long since defunct, tried yesterday to sell it to the editor of the Express, as a curiosity, but as empty skulls are plenty around that establishment already, he failed to make a trade.

S. H. Slaughter, real estate agent and loan broker, is doing a large business, selling ranches, houses and lots and loaning money. He has lately increased the size of his office, and takes pleasure in entertaining strangers and visitors as well as his old customers. We know of no better place to get information about the country, than his office.

The Turners are quietly making their preparations for the grand masquerade on the 22d of February. It is determined that this shall be the most attractive masquerade ever brought out. The Turners are just the boys to bring out such an entertainment in fine style and when they say they are going in to win we all know what is going to happen.

The Simi and Los Posas ranches in Ventura county have just passed into the ownership of the Moore Brothers, of Santa Barbara. These ranches contain nearly 150,000 acres of the finest lands in Southern California. They were originally in the hands of the de la Guerra family. It is proposed to make various improvements upon them, and before long it is hoped they will be occupied by frugal and industrious citizens.

The Zanjero.

We give place to a communication concerning the appointment of C. Aguilar to the office of Zanjero, but think that our correspondent is entirely mistaken. No one objects to Aguilar on account of his nationality or his religion, and no one but a bigot or a know-nothing would think of doing so—but there are a great many who think the officer ought to be able to speak the language in which the business is conducted, and we believe the position a sound one. A man who understands and speaks both languages will have trouble enough in managing the water question; and while there are plenty of capable men who are acquainted with both English and Spanish, we see no reason why one who is wholly ignorant of the tongue spoken by two-thirds of the irrigators should be forced into the office.

Through the diligence of Mr. B. F. Hartlee, the Dexter Saloon robbery has been cleared out.

Last evening the parties who were first suspected of the robbery, were arrested, and a portion of the $855 recovered. Further particulars could not be obtained at the time we went to press.

Saturday night about eleven o'clock five men, four of them mounted, dismounted the residents of Sonoma by firing pistols and raising a rumpus on the streets. The mounted men escaped, but officers Bilderrain and Sanchez arrested the footman, who proved to be India a Pete, who has just returned from San Quentin. Pete's brother-in-law, who was the driver, was not arrested, but only succeeded in getting himself into limbo. Monday morning they paid a fine of $9.50 each, for their little amusement.

The printers of this city have determined to give the grandest ball of the season on January 22d. At a meeting held at the Mirror office Sunday they made all the necessary arrangements, and appointed the committees to carry them into effect. The printers of Los Angeles know how to run any kind of an entertainment with success, and we are sure they will make this ball the feature of the winter festivities. Leck's hall has been secured for the occasion.

The market in San Francisco is so overstocked with oranges from Tahiti and Mexico—admitted free of duty, under Williams' decision, that Los Angeles oranges are only selling from $12 to $15 per thousand. Our own people have contributed somewhat to this reduction by pushing their crop into the market over early in the season—a great deal of it before it was ripe. The oranges are not as large as usual, which also makes a difference.

Keep to Work on the Irrigating Ditches.

People in this country are very slow to do anything that may not injure to their immediate benefit, and this particular disposition has been illustrated repeatedly in the matter of preparing for irrigation. We have known many enterprises for irrigation to be planned and partly executed under the inspiration of a drought, which, when the fall rains begin to come and give promise of a plenty of rain, have been abandoned far more convenient season. Indeed, we know farmers who have already ditches dug, and everything in readiness for supplying their farms with a good soaking, except a little repair, or perhaps a little cleaning out, and watch the weather and hope for plenty of rain, until late in the season that the work on the ditches cannot be done in time to give their crops the benefit of water when most they need it. We have known this to happen in those portions of the country where the ditches have been built for conducting water over the country from Cache creek a number of seasons, and the losses resulting from such delay or neglect may be set down as hundreds of thousands of dollars to the people of that country. The farmers about Woodland lost many thousands the past season, simply because they neglected to prepare for irrigating their crops until too late to do them much good.

THE PRESENT SEASON, it is true, has so far been very favorable so far as the amount of rainfall is concerned, and the rain that has fallen has come so slow and has been so well distributed over the length of time that the ground is well saturated. We have reason to hope that we will receive sufficient rain between this and spring to insure good crops, but there is no certainty that we shall. The only safe way, therefore, to be prepared for the worst—to be independent of the season. Let work on the irrigating ditches be driven forward with vigor, for this may yet prove to be a season in which they may be needed. By no means should old ditches be neglected. Let them be improved and extended, and placed in good working order, so that they may be used to the best advantage, if required.

WATER IRRIGATION.

Our own opinion is that the proper time for irrigating land for the small grains is during the rainy season. In this opinion we are supported by the judgment and experience of the best and most practical grain-growers in the State, and by many facts bearing on the subject. We all know that whenever we have had rain enough down to get the ground thoroughly drenched, we have never failed to reap a good crop. This shows that those who have the facilities for flooding their lands in the winter have the means to secure good crops entirely within their own hands, and if they neglect to use these means and fail to secure good crops, none are to blame but themselves. Let work be kept up on the ditches.—[Sac. Record.]
